

Part-time Coordinator Role to support Ribble Valley Climate Action Network

Ribble Valley Climate Action Network is a community group working to bring people together to press for fair and effective action to respond to the climate and nature crises.

We are looking for a Part-time Coordinator, working from home, to support RVCAN's administration, development and communications. Your role will involve the development and maintenance of our website and other digital systems, assisting in the development of the network across the Ribble Valley and the provision of fundraising support to us, which will help to deliver RVCAN's aims and values.

The contract is for 1 day per week (7.5hours), initially for 10 months, at a fee of £120 per day.

The Coordinator will play a key role in helping RVCAN build on our achievements of 2023.

Closing date for applications is 22nd April. Please email RVCAN at ribblevalleycan@gmail.com for an information pack.
